DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to applicants' amendment received on 07/11/03.
2. Claims 15 and 19-21 been canceled.
3. New claim 24 been added.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 12-14 and 16-17 recites the limitation "a transverse cross-sectional width which is greater than its transverse cross-sectional height" in the last two lines of claim 12. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. The specification does not describe nor read a transverse cross-sectional width greater than the transverse cross-sectional height.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1,7-9, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cooper (US Pat. 6,129,206). Cooper discloses the invention substantially as claimed including a connector as a thin and straight filament "15" with a first and a second end cross members "17" and "19" at a first and second end, cross-members with a flat inner surface and a flat outer surface (see Fig. 3), a connector "15" formed onto the approximate center of the inner surface of the first cross member, a fastener constructed of plastic (col.3, lines 7-8).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 12-14 and 16-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Deschenes (US Pat. 6,427,895). Deschenes discloses the invention substantially as claimed including a needle for dispensing a plastic fastener with a flat bottom, a flat sidewall which extend orthogonally, and a flat flange extending orthogonally inward from the sidewall (see Fig.9), a longitudinal-extending bore with a rectangular cross-section "153" (col. 8, lines 36-41), a longitudinally-extending slot "155", and a sharpened tip "57". Deschenes does not specifically state a pair of sidewalls. Moreover, there is no explicit disclosure of a pair of flanges. Examiner takes Official Notice of the well-known act of including a pair of sidewalls as a matter of design choice. Furthermore, it would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have modified Deschenes' invention including a pair of sidewalls extended orthogonally up from the flat bottom wall in order to allow a thin disk cross-member to be received and travel freely through the central bore. Also, Examiner takes Official Notice of the well-known act of including a pair of flange as a matter of design choice for the purpose of defining a slot extending longitudinally across the length of the needle. Furthermore, it would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have modified Deschenes' invention including a pair of flat flanges in order to define a slot extending longitudinally across the length of the needle allowing the connector to extend within the slot while the cross-member is disposed within the bore.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2-6, 10, and 22-23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
8. Claims 18 and 24 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicants' remarks have been fully considered but they are not deemed persuasive.
10. Applicant contends that Cooper does not show or suggest a fastener comprising a flat inner surface and a flat outer surface, wherein the first end of said connector is formed onto the flat inner surface of the first cross member. Examiner asserts that a reference anticipates a claimed invention when all the features are disclosed. In this instance, as can be seen in col. 3, lines 21-26, Cooper's fastener could have alternatively-shaped cross-sections as for example a rectangular shape. It is deemed that rectangular cross-sections "17" and "19" provide a flat inner surface and a flat outer surface, thereby the first end of the connector filament "15" is formed onto the flat inner surface of the first cross member "17".
11. For the reasons above, the grounds of rejection are deemed proper.

12. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

13. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
